

Gelert the Brave

I really enjoyed writing about Gelert - so why not have a go at writing your own brave pet story. You can use this sheet to help.

1. What sort of pet is your story about? _____

2. What is your pet called? _____

(have a good think because names are very important - you can always change it later)

3. Who does the pet belong to? _____

4. The story of Gelert is set in the past and the characters live in a castle. What is the setting for your story?

My story is set in the (Past? Present? Future?) _____

My characters live in a _____

(remember - not everyone lives in a mansion)

5. What brave thing does your pet do?

(Perhaps it rescues someone. Perhaps it finds something that is lost. Perhaps it solves some kind of problem. _____

6. How will your story end? The story of Gelert the Brave has a sad ending but you could have a happy ending.

Think about how your characters feel. The prince's feeling in the Gelert story change. In one part he is sad - in another part he is angry, then sad.

Have fun writing.
