

THE Christmas Story! Chapter 1 Christmas day

"Hey Genius" said a voice from outside. Olivia peered from her bedroom window down onto the driveway at the front door of their house. Luckily, her not so clever brother, was still balancing two Christmas trees on his shoulder. That second, Olivia hurried down the stairs and got out of the front door bumping into Dad. Dad had just got back from working in the snow so he was all dirty so he went inside the house to get changed. When Olivia came back inside the house she asked Mum if she could bake a green and red ginger bread and cake for puddings. Mum agreed to bake both things. But said Mum we don't have enough ingredients for ginger. Lucas and Dad had matching clothes and so did Mum and Olivia. They put them on and then went to the shops for more ingredients and then played and went home on Christmas day! but when they got home all the presents were gone. The children cried and cried until, "Grandad said we could make gaffer tape and hide behind the sofa and then sit that person on a chair and try to use a rope to tie that person to the chair so they can't escape" said Grandad. "No" Dad replied Mum. "It's too much damage for the children including Olivia she's a girl, girls aren't strong like boys. Lucas will be ok he will defeat the bad people" said Mum. "Come on now Annabella you have to bake with Olivia cause you've promised her" said Dad. "It's the truth" replied Olivia. "Ok then it's better than arguing" said Mum.
